MOTORCYCLISTS MEET

Buffalo, N.Y., July 10.—A palmy day for the League of American Wheelmen, when thousands of devotees of the old "high wheels" were wont to gather for their annual national federation, will be recalled in Buffalo this week by the national meet of the Federation of American Motorcyclists, which bids fair to become as widespread in its membership as the old organization which flourished a quarter of a century ago. The entire week is to be given up to the meet. # ESKIMOS' HABITS SUBJECT OF REPORT

HIGH STANDARD OF MORALITY EXHIBITED AMONG ALL TRIBES—IN SPECTOR JENNINGS' REPORT

Probably no more interesting feature of the Royal North West Mounted Police annual report to the government could be found than that relating to the Eskimo living at Herschel Island. In this year's annual account of the police work, Inspector Jennings gives an outline of the character of the Eskimo, their moral and material tendencies. Although the inspector comments some of the principles of the Eskimo, he has a good word for them as regards their industriousness and ability. It appears from the report that the Eskimo are a very hardy and brave people. The Eskimo are a very hardy and brave people. The Eskimo are a very hardy and brave people.

But the city of Edmonton issued $200,000, 4 1/2 per cent. at 103, made through Sir Macmillan's organization, the Royal Securities Corporation, has proved an exception and it is officially stated to have been over-subscribed. The underwriters say nothing in reply to questions as to how it was managed. The official reply is, "By hard work."

Municipal Gas Bylaw
Should Be Submitted First

Do the ratepayers of Edmonton want municipal gas or are they willing to give the franchise away to a private company?

Reduced to its simplest analysis this is the question which is before the city council tonight, and if the aldermen seek the solution in the easiest and most direct manner possible there is only one course open, and that is to submit a money bylaw for the purpose of installing a municipal plant.

By getting a vote of the ratepayers, the main question of whether or not the city should go into the gas business will be answered. If the citizens favor municipal gas the necessity of considering model agreements or any other kind of agreements will have been dispensed with. If the citizens do not favor municipal gas it will be time enough after this point is settled to consider and negotiate agreements.

In one form or another the gas question has been before the council for five years. Undoubtedly the city wants gas, and undoubtedly a gas plant would have been installed by the city long ago had it not been for franchises outstanding to private companies or negotiations pending. Discussing agreements has accomplished nothing except to delay construction. A bylaw to raise a sum of a quarter of a million or a half a million or whatever the amount is which the city engineer thinks necessary to install a plant will hasten the day when the city will get gas by clearing the situation and answering one and for all the main question of municipal or private gas.

The Capital takes the ground that as the city owns all the other franchises and as the gas franchise is positively the last franchise that any private interests could ever hope to acquire, no move should be made by the council to change this policy without a mandate from the ratepayers showing conclusively that they are in favor of abandoning municipal ownership and giving this franchise away.

Consequently it is the duty of the council to first of all frame a money bylaw providing funds for a municipal plant and to submit this to the ratepayers.

In the meantime, any discussion of model agreements or any other kind of agreements is superfluous and uncalled for and can have no other effect than to confuse the issue in the minds of the ratepayers.

The municipal gas bylaw should be submitted first.

Single Tax Idea
Triumphant in Alberta

A remarkable illustration of the growth of the single tax idea in Western Canada is to be found in the fact that when the mayors and representatives of the different cities of Alberta met the attorney general in Calgary recently for the purpose of discussing a general charter for the whole of the cities of this province it was the unanimous opinion of all present that all other systems of taxation should be abolished and the revenue derived solely from taxation of land values.

To those who have followed the growth of the idea from the days of twenty or thirty years ago when a single taxer was considered some kind of a crank if not a revolutionary and who have seen cities and municipalities all over America dropping one by one all other systems of taxation and coming gradually but surely to the land tax idea, it will not be altogether surprising to learn that here in the new province of Alberta there is a whole country which is solid in the belief that taxes on improvements, taxes on industry, income taxes, business licenses and all similar systems of raising revenue are just so many fines levied against progress and progressiveness.

Easterners Control Alberta Lands
But Retain Their Own Resources

One of the greatest claims that is made by the Dominion authorities to justify their holding of the natural resources of the prairie provinces is that the immigration business is one which can be better handled by the federal government than by the provincial, and inasmuch as that the land in all prairie provinces is disposed of on the same terms, it is better that the whole business be under one control.

In direct opposition to this claim it is interesting to note that in the Dominion house one of the most strenuous opponents of the eastern province members is that their particular part of the Dominion be given the same attention by the immigration department as the prairie country, and one of the greatest grievances which the Whitney government lays up against the Ottawa administration is that Ontario is slighted by the department to such an extent that the province has to undertake the work of settling its northern regions on its own account.

This argument would be good were it not for the fact that it has been found by the government of Alberta that this province is really in the same position as Ontario in the respect that it has found it necessary to organize an immigration machine of its own, and through its publicity department is doing exactly the same work which Ontario is doing, the very necessity of which that province regards as an imposition.

At the same time, while Alberta sends seven members to Ottawa Ontario sends eighty, so that in any question regarding the disposition of Alberta lands, or on any matter of immigration policy, Ontario has more than ten times the force of Alberta at Ottawa in deciding questions which are purely and locally Albertan matters. Nevertheless Ontario absolutely controls her own resources by the provincial ownership of the same.

So that while Alberta does not own nor control her own resources, she is controlled by provinces which own their own resources, and in the immigration department she is paying through federal agency with her lands for immigration work done in these other provinces which control their own lands.

Nothing could be more manifestly unjust.

JUST PARAGRAPHS

Frank Oliver is due to speak in Camrose on Wednesday night, on which occasion the member for Camrose will undoubtedly unbend sufficiently to cheer the minister of the interior with his assurance that everything is all right, just as he assured President Taft that the tariff agreement was quite satisfactory.

With Sir Wilfrid hurrying back from across the ocean's briny wave and Mr. Borden hiking homeward from the wild and woolly, the word factory at Ottawa will soon be ready to grind again on the tariff agreement that will pass by exactly the same vote no matter how long they talk.

While the rain may be all right for the crops there are certain interests identified with a game known as baseball which might be depended on to aver that it has a very depressing effect on the discussion of the silver question at the ticket window.

With Borden telling the farmers in Western Canada that they are swindled by the reciprocity pact and LaFollett telling the farmers of Minnesota the same, it seems that there is no ending to this bargain but only two short ends.

Max Aitken was poor at 25, a millionaire at 29, a member of the British commons at 31, and a knight at 32. The title they should have conferred on Max was Duke of Halley's Comet and Knight Commander of the Axtars.

While it is generally admitted that real estate moves more freely in Edmonton than in most cities there is no constitutional reason why the city water mains should be made the medium for the greatest movement of all.

Some idea of the agony which easterners suffered through the intense heat wave might be gathered from an attendance at the commission meetings while the water question is up for discussion.

The question is whether Geo. B. O'Connor is working for Hon. Frank and does not know any better or whether the minister of the interior is himself the victim of an intrigue of bad advice.

What Frank Oliver said to Joe Adair has evidently not been copyrighted. Or at least if has Commissioner Candy is no respecter of the act.

Edmonton now has twenty-five street cars, and they all run the one way, which happens to be the opposite direction to the one you are going.

Let the city council finish its work.

THE TITLE MARKET

(Ottawa Journal)
Hon. Clifford Sifton, who hurried over to the coronation, is said to have read a reproachful notice in Sir Max Aitken's direction that the files were being distributed, remarking, "Humph, I made more money than that upstart."

A WORD ABOUT CITY CHARTERS

(Strathcona Plaindealer)
The provincial government of Alberta has for some time been in view legislation to unify municipal charters. It seems to us that in addition to distinctions in charter rights between villages, towns and cities there must be distinctions between cities of different magnitudes. We refer particularly to the form of government, for example, the plan for a city like Calgary should be quite different from one such as Wetaskiwin would require. A small city should not be shouldered with the machinery of administration required for a city of the 50,000 class, nor on the other hand, should a city like Calgary be asked to accept a charter that might admirably suit that town. Our observations on this subject are suggested by the success which has attended the administration of the city of Strathcona under a charter which provides only the old-fashioned city council system, a system which would be utterly inadequate for the administration of the affairs of a larger city. The legislation which will make uniformly in city charters must move very elastic and adaptable to varying conditions.

A YEAR OF GREAT ABUNDANCE

(St. Paul Pioneer Press)
If the glowing crop prospects are realized in the harvest the year's yield of wheat promises to break all records and an unusually large surplus will be carried over into next year's crop. The department of agriculture's preliminary estimate of June 4 indicates a total wheat crop for the United States of nearly 700,000,000 bushels, an excess of about 26,000,000 over the 1910 crop. Canada has an estimated crop of 200,000,000, a gain of about 25 per cent. over last year. Australia and Argentina both have larger crops than last year and India has a crop estimated at 220,000,000 bushels. 10,000,000 bushels larger than the record crop of 1904 and 50,000,000 larger than last year's yield. Great Britain, France, Spain and Italy, where the 1910 yield of wheat was about 100,000,000 bushels, report prospects that indicate an average crop for this year. The drought has damaged the Russian crop, although a yield equal to that of last year is expected.

A LONE FIGURE

"There, too, was Mamel, the deposed King of Portugal!"
These words, says the Ottawa

free Press despatches of the coronation, found a strange contrast to the general joyousness and acclaim of the occasion. Mamel was the only one present who had ever donned robes of state and swung a sceptre as a king.

"There, too, was Mamel," without a throne, without a country, a king entitled to plaudits and receiving none. How different he must have thought, was all this to Lisbon. In London the cheers of loyal, devoted subjects rang in his ears, subjects who believe and know that the limited form of monarchy is the nearest approach to the ideal system of government. He knew the King and royalty drove through the streets in perfect safety. He knew there existed no intrigues, no plots, no spies, no pretentious nobles, but loyalty. He saw sturdy sons from beyond the seas, all representing more loyalty and more power.

It was a strange contrast with the streets of Lisbon, where he was never safe from the anarchist's bomb, and where he saw his father and brother fall victims.

Little Mamel, his years packed with misfortune, seemed to be the least of all, most forlorn figure of them all. He was dismissed with a single line, "There, too, was Mamel, the deposed King of Portugal."

CLOWNS IN STAR ACT

FIGHTING THE FLAMES

The great Sells-Floto shows consolidated present along with their comedy department this year numerous prominent jesters, commonly called clowns: James Butterfield, Shorty Maynard, Frank Stood, and Horace Webb are the principal jesters and associated with them are a king of the clowning world. Along with these funny chaps, others also assist with comical antics. When intermingling with clowns on the street none of them would be suspected of wearing the loose robes of a fool, but when they are in the ring with their make-ups on, they laugh and the crowd laughs with them. A jolly lot, and they have certainly helped to unload at least temporarily the cars from the minds of thousands of people.

Just see the clowns in their famous act of fighting the flames and you will realize that clowning is an art of itself. The best clowns are born, not made. The fun department of the great Sells-Floto show is fully up to the high standard of its other departments; in fact, many a person will testify to the statement that the clowns with this show are worth the price of admission. Their work is appreciated, as the present strenuous life of most people causes them to relish a little pure nonsense.

Everything in all departments of the Sells-Floto circus this year is positive, in new, refreshing and up-to-date. The big show will exhibit in Edmonton on Monday, July 17.

The general price of admission is 25 cents. No more, no less. Ticket wagons are open on the grounds at 9 o'clock each day and the parade takes place at 10 o'clock. You need only see this magnificent spectacle to be fully persuaded.

"THE SHOW THAT'S DIFFERENT"

All the Empire theatre tonight, Myerson Willard, and "The Man of Mystery" Co. open a week's engagement. The coming of this attraction has been the subject of much comment among theatre-goers of Edmonton for the past ten days. Everywhere one goes they see some kind of a sign, Mrs. H. G. Brown, Tonight Willard will demonstrate what is meant by these signs. This attraction playing here at popular prices, certainly should fill the Empire theatre. The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given. A big carriage is in store for those who are there tonight. Little has been said regarding Martin E. Johnson and his South Sea Island Travelers as they are a novelty and have never been introduced in Edmonton before. They offer something entirely new to amusement lovers. Willard will introduce sleight-of-hand tricks and magic as it has seldom been seen here offering many new and original tricks. They offer something entirely new to amusement lovers. Early the coming week they will attach their signatures to city debentures amounting to $1,700,012, the issue having been awarded on a tender to the Royal Securities Company of Montreal. The law requires that all such debentures must be signed with pen and ink, while for common a rubber stamp may be used. The mayor will have to sign his name 3,500 times and Mr. Crockett just double that number.

A TORRID HEAT WAVE SWEEPS OVER THE FAMOUS RACE COURSE—THAMES WON THE STEWART—OTHER RESULTS OF THE RACES.

Henley-on-Thames, July 9.—A heat wave, passed over Henley-on-Thames Saturday. Thousands upon thousands of people are on the river and the Ottawa crew is enjoying a well-earned rest after their arduous work for the past ten days. The final race of the Henley regatta will be held on Saturday and staff work is being done by the crews in the great heat that prevailed.

The Stewart's Challenge Cup final was won by the Thames Rowing club, who beat Trinity, Henley, Cambridge, by one length in the good time of seven minutes thirty-five seconds.

The Diamond Stulls final race was rowed at 2:30 Saturday and was won by last year's winner, W. D. Lunn, who defeated Powell by one and a half seconds in the fast time of eight minutes fourteen, being only four seconds outside the record for the distance and this event.

Magdalene College, who beat Ottawa eight, beat Jesus College in the final of the Grand Challenge Cup on July 9.

EDMONTON CRICKET CLUB

The cricket match last Saturday was all in favor of the Edmonton club. The Bankers having the toss decided to bat first but were all dismissed for the low score of 20 runs. The bowlers of the Edmonton club were Anderson, and Weaver seemed to be too deadly for the visitors. Weaver secured five wickets for the Edmonton club, taking four wickets for 10. The only batsman for the Bankers who seemed to have some chance was Mose with 7 not out to his credit.

The batting of Anderson and Moundfield was the feature of the afternoon's game both scoring rapidly. Next Saturday's game is versus the Wye road club and members are reminded that the team will be chosen at the first practice night of the week.

Shamrocks Shut Out Tecumsehs Score 10-0

Toronto, July 9.—Tecumsehs were washed out by the unbeatable Shamrocks yesterday at Toronto. The final score standing 10-0. The league leaders had a change in their line up. Rowland, the excellent pitcher, replaced Mackenzie on the defence.

Tecumsehs started by scoring one of the fastest goals on record. Pickler drew the pass and passed to Durkin, who dashed toward the Shamrock goal and passed to Rowland, who kicked the ball. Kinsman made a fine stop of a back shot, but after Muir had made several sensational saves and goals had been ruled out for ten minutes for striking Muir on the head, McQuinn scored the fourth for Tecumsehs. The Indians got another in half a minute, McRae scoring with a wicked side shot. In the second period, Durkin got the sixth goal. This was the

A Glance at the Big Leagues This Year Makes Apparent the Value of a Strong Pitching Staff—Eckstorm and the Ball Averages—The President Refers to the Winnipeg Situation—A Condition

We want no better illustration of the value of a good pitching staff than the way the big league club owners are grabbing after every stick of promising material in the bush leagues. They are willing to spend huge sums in gambling for one player; they are willing to buy five or six prospects to get one good man out of the bunch. Every scout is given special instructions to keep their eye on every player.

Take for example Owen John Johnson of Boston. He is a regular buy, but among the minors this year and has secured at least seven offers on seven young players of talent in the minor leagues. If the Boston team does not build up a pitching staff in the next few years that will help them to win, and if a place it will not be because the club has not tried out because they were unwilling to spend money.

Black's fingers are closing up to get away from the White Sox. When they had Brown, Pfeiffer, Bushnell and Overly all going down, there was nothing to it, when it came to winning pennants. Now that these star players have been lost, the Sox are in a bad way.

We want no better evidence of the value of pitchers than the present condition of the Chicago Cubs. When they had Brown, Pfeiffer, Bushnell and Overly all going down, there was nothing to it, when it came to winning pennants. Now that these star players have been lost, the Sox are in a bad way.

Take the American League and we'll start with the White Sox. What if they had Walsh and Smith going as good as they were a few years ago. With the bunch of hitters that Conkley has collected for this year there would be nothing to it. But White Sox is going back to the White Sox. Only Walsh is keeping up his end, and not as strong as he was a few years ago. The New York Americans are up in the first division because of their air twisting staff, and the Boston Red Sox are up in the first division because of their air twisting staff, and the Boston Red Sox are up in the first division because of their air twisting staff.

But we do not have to go to the big leagues to discover the value of pitchers. Take Calgary. Without Black's fingers are closing up to get away from the White Sox. When they had Brown, Pfeiffer, Bushnell and Overly all going down, there was nothing to it, when it came to winning pennants. Now that these star players have been lost, the Sox are in a bad way.

The pitching staff of the Eskimos is not outstandingly strong. In fact it is. There is not a single twister on the Edmonton team upon whom the reputation of the players can rely absolutely in case of a tight pinch. A weak pitching staff is discouraging to the team.

If the Eskimo can secure at least one good pitcher the team would start winning and in spite of the time hitting an enormous handicap which Moose Jaw has, would have a big chance of beating them to the pennant.

The condition which Mr. Scott has made on which he will dictate in the wrestling match on July 12 is one that will appeal to every fair-minded fan in the city. The fact that Mr. Scott has had plenty of experience in the wrestling game and that he is a prominent business man in Edmonton makes it an assured fact that the match will not be fixed. That is as it should be.

THE CALGARY VIEW OF THE RECENT SPORTS WRITTEN BY A CALGARY MAN—TALK IN SPORT CIRCLES IN THE SOUTH.

(By Wm. Groul.)
To the true Calgary sportsman the results of the meet at the fair Monday night are not anything but agreeable. Calgary was the front in almost every event and a winner in the great majority of the competitions. It is not saying too much when the claim is made that when the provincial tests are held, the men of Calgary will be the force in all the athletic competitions.

Perhaps the most striking feature of the meet was the very strong interest attached to the affair from the grandstand. As the announcer called the various events, the grandstand, as a whole, took the greatest interest in the matter and watched the men go down to the starting point and face the placid but the keenest critic. Each winner was liberally applauded. In fact, the meet was a sterling success.

McNeil is the star all-around man of the city and if he takes care of that beautiful body of his way is clear to a great athletic future. He possesses speed and grit—two of the essentials of the true athlete. The style allows him to use his strength to the best advantage and the grit enables him to do his best. To see him make a provincial record in the high jump when his ankle was sore was explaining more that columns of matter in a newspaper would do. He has a future.

Now that the horse races are over and the winners are known, a feeling of the keenest satisfaction must be experienced at the way the whole affair was managed. The races are good and the huge crowds that daily thronged the enclosure testifies as nothing else did to the strong attraction of the royal sport. Anyone who says that the races were fixed knows better and is merely trying to secure a little publicity.

It is to be hoped that the ball team strikes its feet before the end of the present year for the world is approaching when every game counts in the standing. The way the home team plays leads one to the belief that they are "home" in the strictest sense of the word. On the diamond at Victoria park it is very doubtful if the Milt Stanley team can be beaten by any other team in the league. Away from home they are more or less an uncertain quantity.

An effort is being made to have two well-known boxers come to Calgary and give a display. Tommy Burns, the man behind the bars in the matter of the chances are that it will go through. If two top-notchers are secured the affair would be a grand success if the young men are permitted to box and not resort to a fight. They must be good boxers and both evenly matched. Then there will be a display of the manly art that will do much to redeem the old art of self-defense from the evil days into which it has fallen.

The Calgary Amateur Athletic club made a good start when its representative team in the 100-yard race on Monday. The sole object of the club is to develop young material for the city of Calgary and any boy who has promise in good work in athletics will be welcomed with open arms. It is not practically nothing to join the club and the trainer is one of the best in the city.

The splendid showing of the Otago club in the 100-yard race at Henley was the brilliant victory of the fours of the same club that could not have been secured in any other way. They were against the very best of the world in the home of the sport and they won. It is a recommendation for the club in the world of the sport that they will be proud of the men from the capital.

One of the features of the week's sport, and probably the most interesting, was the Indian race and the race in which the cowboys figured. In fact, a dozen cities in the world have such races as seen. It is right to stick up for the local color idea. Visitors like it and the local people appreciate the touch of strictly Calgary features. It is not very distant from the pictures taken of the races this year and in the past few days.

The Y.M.C.A. defeated the Norwood team by a score of seventeen to seven in a baseball game played at the Norwood stadium on Saturday evening. The win was due to vivid blow ups on the part of the Norwood pitcher and a couple of errors credited to their defense. Butchart, the Y.M.C.A. pitcher, threw a one-hitter and his credit is greatly to be noted for his credit. It is not that the Norwood did not do better runs than they did. He issued one pass, struck out ten men and was fouled out for eight hits. McRae, the Norwood twirler made two sensational ones in the fifth and the other in the ninth. In the ninth, a couple of errors were made by swatting the ball in all corners of the field. Outside of those two somewhat of a surprise, the game might have been a fairly good exhibition of ball. The score by innings was: Y.M.C.A., 210; Norwood, 7.

Summary—Two-base hits, A. Maguire, Jameson, Haldimand, Burns, Drayton; three-base hits, White, Roberts, Campbell; home run, A. Maguire on balls, off Butchart 1, off Maguire 3; struck out, by Butchart 10, by Maguire 3; double plays, L. Maguire to Haldimand in W. Maguire, Unipier, Dewar.
